Travel Advisory

U.S. European Command has issued a travel advisory for Germany. Earlier this week, improvised explosive devices were discovered in unattended suitcases in train stations in Dortmund and Koblenz.

U.S. Army Garrison Stuttgart and EUCOM urge all community members to exercise increased vigilance when traveling or using public transportation. Remember: keep alert at all times, and if you notice anything out of the ordinary, report it to the proper authorities. Off-post throughout Europe, dialing 112 will put you in touch with emergency personnel.

For more information about the travel advisory visit www.eucom.mil or www.travel.state.gov.

On Thursday, July 20th, my Fujifilm FinePix S9000/S9500 camera was stolen from my car. It is a large black camera and it was in a Sony bag. It also had several memory cards including a Hama 512 MB compact flash and an Olympus 1 GB XD card. The camera and the photos are very special to me, and I really want them back. Even if I can just have the photos back, that would be something. If anyone has a child who has come home with a new camera, or has been approached to purchase a camera, please let me know, or contact the MPs. I can be reached at Kelly.sarles@us.army.mil. I don't want to press any charges. I just want my photos back.
